A PRAYER SONG FOR DANIEL

Call Daniel Home

He carried the candle down Saint Brigid's aisle,
A boy in white with a careful smile,
Now grown and gone his own long way,
He's wandered far from where we pray.

Lord, call Daniel home to You,
Light the road he's walking through,
Keep the door of mercy wide,
Stay so near him, by his side,
Father, hear a mother's plea,
Hold my Daniel close to Thee.

Still every Sunday the telephone rings,
He asks how I am and tells me small things,
I hold the phone and hear his voice,
And ask You, Lord, to guide his choice.

Lord, call Daniel home to You,
Light the road he's walking through,
Keep the door of mercy wide,
Stay so near him, by his side,
Father, hear a mother's plea,
Hold my Daniel close to Thee.

When he was yet a great way off,
His father saw him, Lord, like You,
And was moved with compassion,
And running to him, kissed him.

I cannot walk his road for him,
Nor light his lamp when it grows dim,
So into Your hands I let him go,
You love him more than I could know.

Lord, call Daniel home to You,
Light the road he's walking through,
Keep the door of mercy wide,
Stay so near him, by his side,
Father, hear a mother's plea,
Hold my Daniel close to Thee.
Mary, pray for him tonight,
Keep him ever in your sight.

Amen for Daniel, my son,
Amen, Lord, Your will be done.

Luke 15:20

A prayer that is sung keeps being prayed.
